Sarah meets a new friend Angela Brooks, daughter of Jessica Brooks, a single mother. Her father has been in touch with Professor Trentmoore, (Head of the Reinhart School for Children) to hire Katie Andrews as a tutor for Sarah. After a visit to the house, Sarah and Angela strike a plan to introduce their parents, by trying to get him to invite Jessica to the house for a Christmas dinner. Ed is invited as always but Sarah also begs her father to invite Katie as she will be alone at the Reinhart School on Christmas eve. Not only is the dinner a success but the information leading up to it, and what we find out at the dinner itself, truly makes this a very special Christmas for all! A show for all ages.
